Power of Central Government to issue directions.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980 (the Act) was enacted to provide for the conservation of forests and for matters connected therewith or ancillary or incidental thereto. It provides that prior permission of the Central Government is required for de-reservation of forest land, use of forest land for non-forest purposes, assigning of forest land by way of lease to private entities and for clearing of naturally grown trees for the purpose of reafforestation.

2. After its enactment, new challenges relating to ecological, social and environmental developments, such as, mitigating the impact of climate change, achieving the national targets of Net Zero Emission by 2070 and maintaining or enhancing the forest carbon stock have emerged at national and international levels. Further, keeping in view the aims and objective of the country to increase the forest or tree cover for creation of carbon sink of additional 2.5 to 3.0 billion tons of CO₂ equivalent by 2030, and to carry forward the rich tradition of preserving forests and their bio-diversity symbiotically by enhancing forest based economic, social and environmental benefits, including improvement of livelihoods for forest dependent communities, it is necessary to broaden the horizons of the Act.

3. Further, prior to the Judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, dated the 12th December, 1996 (in the matter of T.N. Godavarman Thirumulpad vs. Union of India and others), the provisions of the Act were applied to notified forest lands and not to revenue forest areas, and non-forestry use in the revenue forest areas was allowed through permissions granted by the Government and various authorities. Subsequent to the said Judgment, the provisions of the Act were applied in the recorded forest areas including such recorded forests which had already been put to various type of non-forestry use, thereby restraining the authorities from undertaking any change in the land use and allowing any development or utility related work. Besides this, apprehensions prevailed regarding applicability of the Act in the plantations raised in private and Government non-forest lands. This situation resulted in misinterpretation of the provisions of the Act with respect to their applicability especially in recorded forest lands, private forest lands, plantations, etc. Therefore, it is considered necessary to prescribe the extent of applicability and non-applicability of the Act in various types of lands.

4. There is also a need to fast track the strategic and security related projects of national importance so as to ensure development of vital security infrastructures, especially along the international border areas such as Line of Actual Control, Line of Control and Left Wing Extremism affected areas. Similarly, small establishments, habitations on the side of public roads and railways also need to be facilitated by providing them access and connectivity to main arterial roads and other public utilities.

5. Since, there is change in the ecological, social and environmental regimes and policies relating to conservation and development of forests during the last four decades since the enactment of the Act, to keep its provisions in tandem with the dynamic changes in the ecological, strategic and economic aspirations of country, it is proposed to introduce the Forest (Conservation) Amendment Bill, 2023 in Parliament. The salient features of the said Bill, inter alia, are to—

- (i) insert a preamble to the Act to encompass the country's rich tradition of preserving forests, their bio-diversity and tackling climate change challenges within its ambit;
- (ii) amend the short title of the Act to be called the Van (Sanrakshan Evam Samvardhan) Adhiniyam, 1980, so as to ensure that the potential of its provisions is reflected in its short title;

(iii) clarify the scope of applicability of the Act upon various lands so as to remove ambiguities and bring clarity;

(iv) exempt certain categories of lands from the purview of the Act—

- (a) to fast track strategic and security related projects of national importance;
- (b) to provide access to small establishments, habitations on the side of public roads and railways; and
- (c) to encourage plantation on non-forest land;

(v) provide for terms and conditions including the condition of planting trees to compensate felling of trees undertaken on the lands while considering the proposed relaxations under the Act;

(vi) include more activities, which are taken up for the cause of conservation of forest and wild life in to the array of forestry activities;

(vii) bring uniformity in the applicability of the provisions of the Act in respect of both Government and private entities;

(viii) empower the Central Government to specify, by order, the terms and conditions subject to which any survey, such as, reconnaissance, prospecting, investigation or exploration including seismic survey, shall not be treated as non-forest purpose;

(ix) empower the Central Government to issue directions.

6. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.
